DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by anticipated by Kometani et al. (US 6979927).

Regarding claim 1, Kometani et al. disclose a generator-motor comprising: a motor including a rotor (7) and a stator (50) and having a drive mode and a power generation mode (col. 20, Ins. 48-56); and a control device (76) arranged on an end surface of said motor so as to surround a rotation shaft (6) of said motor and controlling drive of said motor, wherein the control device controls the motor to function as a motor under the drive mode and as a generator under the power generation mode.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 9-10,13-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kometani et al. in view of Jones (US 6538356).

Kometani et al. disclose all the aspect of claimed invention except for the arrangement of the electrode plates.

Jones disclose said control device includes first and second electrode plates (19-2,19-4,19-6) arranged so as to substantially form a U-shape to surround the rotation shaft of said motor, a polyphase switching element group controlling a current supplied to said stator, and a control circuit controlling said polyphase switching element group , and said control circuit is provided on a ceramic substrate (col.1, lines 61-63) arranged in a direction similar to an in plane direction of said first and second electrode plates in a substantially U-shaped notch.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the control device of Kometani et al. to accommodate the arrangement of electrode plates as taught by Jones in order to improve and simplify winding connection assembly.

Regarding claim 10, the proposal in combination of Kometani et al. and Jones disclose said control circuit is resin-molded.

Regarding claim 13, the proposal in combination of Kometani et al. and Jones disclose said control device further includes a field coil control unit controlling current feed to a field coil different from said stator, and said field coil control unit is arranged on said ceramic substrate .

Regarding claim 14, the proposal in combination of Kometani et al. and Jones disclose a lead frame continuing to said first and second electrode plates from said ceramic substrate and said first and second electrode plates (19-2,19-4) are arranged in an identical plane.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2-8,11-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
